

WEST FOR LEAGUE; EXPECTS HARDING WILL BE WON OVER

much in peace as it did in 1918, and once the campaign is over and the Republican newspapers that have been lukewarm on the subject because they did not want to help Gov. Cox's candidacy begin to come out strongly in favor of the League again, a noticeable change in public opinion will develop. Many editors, resenting deeply that the League issue has been interjected into the campaign and interfered with their domestic political designs, and will do more for the League of Nations after November 2 than they are doing now.

WEST FOR HARDING BUT STILL FOR LEAGUE.

Thus, while the writer leaves the West with a feeling that Senator Harding has the lead, and with a suspicion that the reaction across the Mississippi against the Democrats is so great that even Senator Penrose himself could carry the West this year, there is every reason to be optimistic about the future support that will be given by the West to the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations. So far as the West is concerned, it will vote for Harding, but by no means will repudiate the covenant of the League. Many Republican newspapers whose heart is with the League of Nations have already made that statement so that the verdict may not be misconstrued.

President Wilson is still as much respected as ever west of the Mississippi, but he has lost his hold on the voters. His failing health has aroused here and there considerable sympathy, but the knowledge that he is not a vigorous leader in his party has caused the voters to examine carefully the new leadership. They do not attribute to Gov. Cox the same high ideals that they did once to Wilson. They see no Bryan going from State to State preaching and crusading as he did in 1916. They see a sulky Nebraskan calling Cox a "wet" and charging that he was nominated by the bosses in the Democratic Party.

They see, too, many original Wilson and McAdoo men going about their business without political emotion. Most of these Democrats will vote for Cox but they are not throwing themselves into the fight as they did in 1916, though in some States like California it is the McAdoo organization which is putting up the fight for Cox and doing well.

McADOO STRONGER WITH VOTERS THAN COX.

Unquestionably William Gibbs McAdoo would have carried more Western States than Governor Cox will. The Democrats out West were for him, as the numerous ballots at the San Francisco convention will show. Furthermore, McAdoo has been and is more dry, and the anti-Saloon League endorsed him. There is doubt about Cox and while he will benefit to some extent by a spirit of witness that still prevails in some parts of the West, his standing on the liquor question has not been sufficiently clear cut to make the women voters believe that he will stand with them absolutely in what they regard as the big moral issue of the day.

Gov. Cox might have made of his campaign in the West a crusade by taking the bone dry side of the argument and emphasizing the League of Nations, to the exclusion of criticism of the Republican candidate's supposed reactionary views. To call a man a reactionary is one thing, to prove that he is may be quite another. Gov. Cox made some headway on this issue, but it is not vitally controlling this year as it was in 1916. The phrases "progressive" and "reactionary" have been lost in a maze of irritations, all of which yield only the one cry—Let's get back to normal, no matter whether we do it by a reactionary or anybody else. Taxation is a sore spot. The Democrats have failed to show how neglectful the last Republican Congress was of the demand of the President for a revision of the tax law.

Most people hold the Democrats responsible. So poor are the Democratic organizations, so weak in publicity and funds that the mass of voters have not been told anything about the two years just passed in which the Republicans had the opportunity to pass remedial legislation. The tariff is bobbing up again in many States, but it is not being intelligently argued. Nor is much being said by the Democrats about the desire of certain Republican interests to change the Federal Reserve system as soon as a Republican administration comes into power.

Some undercurrents of apprehension are to be found even among Western Republicans that the Eastern wing of the party may attempt again to put control of the nation's credit in a few Eastern hands, but the same Western Republicans are confident of their own power to frustrate such a plan. It would have been a bold issue in the West if the Democrats had been awake to its probabilities. If the Democratic campaign in the East is no better than it is in the West the jig is up, the campaign is over, that the month of October is the time when drifts set in and desperate efforts are made, sometimes successfully. Charles E. Hughes was elected early in October, but was defeated at the end of the month despite an eleven-hour drive.

The Democrats have learned from sources unquestionably friendly to them that there isn't a chance of winning the campaign by a combination of Western and Southern States, as four years ago, and the big electoral votes in the East alone can avert defeat.

Open a can of Tango Sardines. Pour the delicately spiced sauce into a pan and heat it. Place the Tangos on slices of toast. Then pour on the hot sauce and slip toast and Tangos under the broiler. In a jiffy you'll have a dish fit for a king—Tangos broiled on toast. Does it taste good? Well, just try it!

But remember, there's all the difference in the world between Tangos and other sardines. Tangos are the plump and tenderest of sardines, free from too strong a fishy taste, and the delicately spiced sauce in which they are packed gives them an added zest and flavor that makes them irresistible.

Try Tango Spiced Sardines. You can get them at your grocer's.

JOHN WANAMAKER Down-Stairs Store---Thursday

Men's All-wool Jersey Sweaters Less than maker's cost

The ideal sweater coat for motoring, golfing, walking and general outdoor wear

$7.50

How do you suppose we got these extra-FINE wool jersey sweater coats to sell below regular wholesale cost?

We'll tell you: these are the celebrated

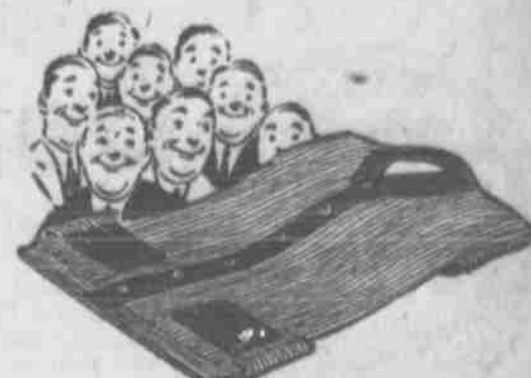

Tom Wye

—jersey coats: known from coast to coast and generally acknowledged to be the best jersey coats made in this country today.

Tom Wye is very exacting in the production of his garments. The slightest variation in color means that the garment is laid aside and sold underprice as an "irregular."

In this case

—we bought the so-called "irregulars"—which simply means that some are discontinued colors; and others are not quite even as to coloring. Not a thing the matter with the weave or quality; we guarantee that.

For men

—who motor; who ride; who play golf or indulge in other out-of-door sports, whose work is in the open—these are the ideal sweater garments.

Not bulky; warm, snug, close-fitting, and very attractive in appearance.

Pure worsted, of course; button down the front; two pockets; long sleeves. In plain black, brown and navy; and in oxford, brown, blue and green heather mixtures. Sizes 36 to 44.

A REAL opportunity.

Women's high-grade Boots Less than Half Price

$4.20 Thursday

The price tells its own story—$4.20 a pair for Wanamaker standard shoes. Here is a definite reduction in price—something that you can apply to your own Fall and Winter needs. And these are counted among the best shoes the Down-Stairs Store has had in many a day. You may choose from—

Tan leather, military heels
Gray kidskin, Louis heels
Patent leather, kidskin or cloth tops
Mat kidskin boots, covered Louis heels
Heavy tan walking boots
Tan boots, colored buckskin tops
Novelty boots—patent leather with colored leather tops
Patent leather, black suede uppers
Tan walking shoes, fine French kidskin tops
Patent leather, tan kidskin tops
And many styles for growing girls

Note, please, that sizes are 2 1/2 to 8, widths AA to C—although there are not all sizes in any one style. But—you can plainly see that the large number of styles offers many fine chances for satisfactory and unusual choosing. You can also see that these are high-grade shoes—the kinds that seldom find their way into sales of any kind. Dress boots and walking boots—and plenty of both.

Many high-grade instruments in this Sale of Used Pianos

We're holding this sale in the Down-Stairs Store because we haven't enough space in the regular Piano Salons. And we're offering many standard instruments that have been taken in exchange and placed in good condition in our own workrooms.

Sale prices range from $50 to $395

—and there is a liberal saving on every instrument. Your own terms, within reason.

The best men's news today is about Made-to-measure Suits, $49.50

In the Lower-Price Broadway Store

Do you like made-to-measure suits?... Do you prefer to have your suit made to YOUR individual measurements? Would you like to save something substantial on the order?

These are pertinent questions, applicable to this sale in the fullest measure. There has been a break in the prices of made-to-measure suits, also; and many fabrics that were one-third more are included at $49.50. Our quantity at writing is not as large as we would like to have it, but there are enough patterns for men who don't wait too long.

Fine worsteds are among them. The linings and trimmings will be adequate; and we'll take full responsibility for the fit and finish.
